SUFFER FROM DYSPEPSIA AND NIGHT TERRORS

The Tortures of Dyspepsia Relieved By "Fruit-a-lives"

Little Bras Dr. C.B. "I was a terrible sufferer from Dyspepsia and Constipation for years. I had pain after eating, belching gas, and was unable to sleep at night. Finally, a friend told me to try "Fruit-a-lives". Constipation was corrected and soon I was free of pain, badaches and that miserable feeling that accompanies Dyspepsia. I continued to take Little Bras and soon I was well, strong and vigorous."

Write for a box of $2.50 Little Bras Dr. C.B. at the Hamilton or Toronto branch of Fruit-a-lives Limited, Ottawa.

SAYS EGYPT TO BE INDEPENDENT

Grand Mufti Firm Against Milner's Plan.

Present Unrest Due to Disappointment.

Cairo, Jan. 7.—A conversation between Viscount Milner, Special British Commissioner, with the Grand Mufti of Egypt, who is the religious chief of the Mohammedan religion, is reported in the newspaper El Mir. In the present trouble of Egypt, the country's disappointed expectation regarding its independence. Lord Milner contended that a pro-tem measure was necessary to Egypt's independence and that it would settle nine of ten disputed points. The Mufti replied that no Egyptian would accept a pro-tem measure. He was willing to discuss the subject, but feared it. The Grand Mufti replied, "Every country has its traitors. But any traitor who betrays his country is a traitor to his religion." The Mufti's statement was interpreted as a warning to the British government.

THE REASON WHY

WHY DOES A STICK SEEM TO BEND WHEN PUT IN WATER?

When light passes from one medium to another, as for example from glass to water, the rays of light change their course, thus making them seem to bend. This is the reason why a stick seems to bend when put in water.

WHAT MAKES THE STARS TWINKLE?

I might tell you that stars do not twinkle at all, and leave you with that for an answer. But, since the truth is that stars do twinkle, and that is what causes your question, I will tell you the reason. The stars are so far away that the light they send us travels through a vast distance before it reaches our eyes. This light is constantly being deflected by the air and other things in the atmosphere, so that it appears to us as if the stars were twinkling.

THE REASON WHY

WHY DOES A STICK SEEM TO BEND WHEN PUT IN WATER?

When light passes from one medium to another, as for example from glass to water, the rays of light change their course, thus making them seem to bend. This is the reason why a stick seems to bend when put in water.

WHAT MAKES THE STARS TWINKLE?

I might tell you that stars do not twinkle at all, and leave you with that for an answer. But, since the truth is that stars do twinkle, and that is what causes your question, I will tell you the reason. The stars are so far away that the light they send us travels through a vast distance before it reaches our eyes. This light is constantly being deflected by the air and other things in the atmosphere, so that it appears to us as if the stars were twinkling.

"Some narrators of this early day story told me that the fiddler at the point of exhaustion would let up and then he would come back and he would begin to growl and snap their jaws as a hint as to what would happen if he didn't stop. The story-teller with a particular distaste for the fiddler's music decided to end the yarn by stating that the wolves were so pleased that the fiddler was playing that they collected for the fiddler was that a

"I have an intimate knowledge of the prairie wolf or coyote—pronounced coy-toe. My boy Dick, who went West in the early eighties and spent an year in northern Montana, invited me out to spend a summer on his prairie farm long years ago. Dick knew there was nothing that would please me so much as hunting and shotting, and in those days, the prairie was still on the vast game range. There were ducks, geese, prairie chickens, foxes, badgers and coyotes as "It is about a coyote hunt; I want to tell."

"Dick had several good riding ponies and invited a friend to join him on a pair of range, grizzly wolf-hounds."

"I was somewhat excited when one morning we set out on our prairie for a prairie plain we knew was a favorite rendezvous for that wolf, cunning, sinking and, also, fierce."

"We were in the grass, the prairie wolf or coyote."

"I had never seen a coyote, though I had heard of it, and I was not the most animal that furnish hunting excitement for mankind. Someone had told me that the prairie wolf was a 'varmint' as being one-eight wolf and seven-eighths vocal organ. For

It can be said that nothing is new about the plan that the Senate is now considering. It is an old story in the sense that for generations of men have been hardily come to go to the Senate and say that they are not slow in the majority of American people. It is strictly to ancient times. It is asserted that every man who has been in the Senate for a long time has been in the Senate for a long time.

Major John Strimmet placed the question of the reputation for the insurance industry to the Cabinet. As the which was appointed by the Senate to investigate the dissolution of the insurance industry. The report of the committee suggested that a special be appointed for the purpose of investigating the insurance industry. A commission desired also an to present its views before the Senate.

Lighthouse on Coast Can Be Worked From Shore.

Of recent years we have had cryptographic lights, and even automatic lightships, but the first unattended lighthouse with a powerful fog signal is the recently completed Plateau Grande lighthouse, the first entrance to Russell Channel, leading to St. Peter's Port, Guernsey, a spot which figures prominently in the romance, "The Tollers of the Sea."

This tower, built of ferro-concrete on a wave-washed rock, is one of the most spectacular shapes in the world. It is 100 feet high, says the New York Times. The room below the gallery contains many ingenious electrical devices, the invention of the late engineer-in-chief, E. O. Catford, controlled from the shore by a submarine cable nearly a mile and a half long. This cable is of great strength, being eleven inches in circumference and weighing forty-five tons to the nautical mile. By its aid the foghorn and siren are operated. By the same cable, heard thirty miles away on the French coast—while the current it carries also controls the light in the lantern. For illuminating expenses of the coastline where the erection of an ar-

It is proposed to use this type of automatic lighthouse for illuminating Hudson Bay and Hudson Straits in connection with the opening of the new railway to Fort Churchill. A proposal to establish similar light-houses on the coast of the Northwest of North America has also been considered.

He who leaves the question of his property to chance or hazard or to the manipulation of his neighbors, deserves to lose it. As to the affairs of love this is a case where every man should advise for himself.—W. B. Gladstone.
